Manager Stahl will take his crowd of Nationals to Philadelphia tomorrow, leaving here on the 7 o'clock train, for a doubleheader with the Athletics. The Quaker management will put in all the new men they have secured for next season and a big crowd will doubtless turn out to witness the final games of the season.

The Nationals will remain in Philadelphia over Sunday and then, with the Athletics, go to Hartford Monday for an exhibition game for the benefit of one of the lodges in Charley Jones will return here and pack up his household effects for a long journey to Denver. He has been living in Gene DeMontreville's house the past summer, and the Washington boy is about due home from Toledo, where he has done so well.

No wonder the Nationals have been favorites in Cleveland, when it is considered the bunch of players on the local team from that city. They are Charley Hickman, Charley Smith and Catcher Wakefield, to say nothing of the boys from nearby Ohio

Harry Hardy belongs in Steubenville; Harry Schlaffy, Beach City; Pitcher Wilson is from Columbus, and George Nill and Pitcher Goodwin are not far away in Indiana towns.

Jack Warner will drop off at his home in New York on the return from Hartford. "Mac" Hayden is already enjoying the comforts of home down in Texas. Case Patten winters at Freeport, N. Y., and passes the time away catching fish through the ice. Frank Kitson will hasten to his now in Chicago in a penitent mood.

Frank Falkenberg is also a product of Chicago, and he will probably travel west with Manager Stahl and take in the world series of games. David Altizer has decided to winter in California, while Lave Cross will shoot ducks around his farm in Delaware. Joe Stanley is a Washington boy and he will pass the next six months at his home in this city.

CHAMPIONS WIN.

Chicago Defeats Cleveland in Opening Game of Final Series.

CHICAGO, October 5 .- Chicago, the new champion of the American League, celebrated the return home yesterday by winning 3 to 1 in the opening game of the final series with Cleveland. But three regulars appeared in Chicago's line-up, the rest of the team taking a much-needed rest. The game was one of the best-played here this season, Pitchers Feine and Joss especially distinguishing themselves. Donohue's home-

YANKEES WON'T

NEW YORK, October 5.-Racing and foot ball, but no more base ball for New York after this week

PLAY THE GIANTS

Frank Farrell yesterday afternoon said he would give out a statement in a few days announcing his attitude on the subject of a post-season series. He positively declined o be interviewed now and the mere fact that he does not intend to make his statenent until some time after base ball affairs are completed proves that a Giant-Yankee series will not take place. There are two evident reasons for Farrell's stand. To begin with, his team is fairly well wrecked. The pitchers are in, and a couple of weaks' rest would be needed to put them in shape. While his club expresses its zeal to meet the Glants, the betting would be 3 to 1 against the Yanks. Of course, Griffith's boys would like to earn an extra thousand dollars apiece, but Griffith feels that they would be at a disadvantage in meeting McGraw's lads, who have been taking it easy.

Another reason, that in spite of reported good feeling between the two managements the facts are somewhat different ments, the facts are somewhat different. Farrell has never forgotten the deal he had from the other club when "invading"

New York. He has neither forgotten nor forgiven. While "friendly rivalry" has prevailed to a certain extent this year there probably remains a rankle.

So far as the players are concerned, they believe themselves capable of beating the Giants. Same notion is held among McGraw's men. Surely no one could call the Yankees a "bunch of quitters" after their recent plucky fighting.

JENNINGS WILL HARMONIZE THE TIGERS

Jennings, who will manage the Detroits next season, spent Wednesday in Cleveland looking over the team. He had intended to keep his presence secret, but it became known, and he talked to several of the players at the park. While reticent in regard to the team for the coming season, it could be seen that he was pretty well satisfied with the makeup. "You see, I am not in a position to define my policy for the coming season," said a general scattering of the boys, although | Jennings. "I must have a talk with the several will return here before setting out owners, but before doing so wanted to get a line on the players. But you can say right John Anderson will drop out at Hartford here that there will be no deal with Chicago or any other club for McIntyre or Crawford." Jennings admitted that he was aware o factions in the team, but he intended to do away with all of these troublesome quarrels. "I will have harmony on the team, and I guess there will be no trouble in ad-justing difficulties."

It can be safely said that there will be one or two changes in the pitching staff, while the catching department will be left unmolested. Lindsay is slated to go or figure in a deal if Ganzel can be secured, and incidentally that Joe Kelley may be found with the Tigers next year. Jennings has a warm snot in his heart for Kelley warm spot in his heart for Kelley.

Jennings left for Detroit, and from there will go to his home before announcing any

FOUNTAINBLUE WON

THE TRIUMPH STAKES

NEW YORK, October 5.-James B. Brady's $25,000 Fountainblue, ridden by Shaw this time instead of Jack Martin, was victorious in the Triumph stakes, for two-year-olds, one mile, at Brighton Beach yesterday. Fountainblue, who had been disgracefully beaten in the Flatbush stakes and other races, quickly went to the front in this event and, getting a perfect ride choice at 3 to 2. Dinna Ken, from the out-side position, had to run around the field in the early stages and then blew up when Koerner called upon him for a real burst of speed through the stretch. F. A. Forsythe's Montgomery, 4 to 1, came from behind in the last quarter and nailed the place by a head from H. B. Duryea's Prince Hampton, 8 to 1. Dinna Ken was a length and a half away.

J. D. Odom's Angler, 8 to 5 second choice J. D. Odom's Angler, 8 to 5 second choice and heavily played at the last moment, was superbly ridden by Garner in the handicap at a mile and a half and won by a length in 2:34 4-5. Garner waited with the Hindoo horse while Miss Crawford, even money favorite, and Blennenworth, 15 to 1, raced out in front to the head of the stretch. Then Garner forced Angler between them and came away in triumph. H. B. Duryea's McKittredge, 8 to 1, closed resolutely in the final half mile and got up in time to take the place from Miss Crawford by a neck.

J. A. Bennet's Ed Ball, backed from 3 flown to 11 to 5, ran a bang up race in the third event, for platers, at a mile and a sixteenth. Incidentally he was perfectly handled by C. Ross, who nursed him along until it came down to a hard drive, in which Ed Ball won by a neck from Oarsman, 7 to 1. Barney Schreiber's Deutschland, 9 to 5 favorite, weakened after making the pace for three-quarters of a mile and finished third. The time was 1:45.

Won in a Gallop.

Bound Brook, with top weight and an 8 to 5 favorite, was much the best in the steeplechase, at about two miles, winning in a gallop by five lengths in 4.12. J. E. Widener's Caller, 3 to 1, was an easy second, with Garter Knot, 7 to 2, who led for a mile and three-quarters, finishing in third place.

ite, broke off running in the first race, for maiden two-year-olds, six furlongs, and was never caught. He had to be hard driven, however, to win by a head from Dan Buhre, 8 to 1, who in turn was a head in front of C. R. Ellison's Yankee Gdrl, 4 to 1. The time was 1:13 4-5.

The sixth event, a six-furlong dash for all ages, was only a gallop for E. R. Thomas' Jacobite, a prohibitive favorite. William Gerst's Gambrinus, 20 to 1, beat the two-year-old Fish Hawk, 6 to 1, a length for the place, Jacobite ran the distance in 1:12 3-5, year-old Fish Hawk, 6 to 1, a length for the place. Jacobite ran the distance in 1:12 3-5, always in hand.

Jack Martin put up a neat ride on Senator McCarren's Sly Ben in the last event, for three-year-olds, six furlongs, and the Ben Strome colt, backed down to 5, came home on the bit two lengths before John E. Madden's Saylor, backed from 50 down to 10. The latter had half a length over Slickaway an equal favorite with Frince Fredaway, an equal favorite with I rince Frederick at 13 to 5. The time was 1:13. It was a hard day for the ring, as three favorites and four second choices, all well supported, got the coin. The attendance, as usual, was close to 12,000.

The Summaries.

First race, six furlongs-El Dorado, 110 (Horner), 2 to 1 and 4 to 5, won; Dan Bunre, 110 (J. Harris), 8 to 1 and 3 to 1, second; Yankee Girl, 107 (Sewell), 4 to 1 and 7 to 5, third. Time, 1.13 4-5. Prince, Fortunatus, Elixir, Viva Voce, Jennie Wells, Narelle, Elfall, Hardshot and Get Aboard

KENTUCKY TODD

WON THE FUTURITY

LEXINGTON, Ky., October 5.-Kentucky Todd, the son of Todd and Paronella, owned trained by Harry Stinson, took the twoyear-old division of the Kentucky Futurity yesterday in straight heats, defeating such crack youngsters as Blue Hill, winner of the youngster division of the Horse Review purse; Bon Ami, Lucille Marlow, The Native and Albingen. Kentucky Todd was one of the most sensational yearlings ever trained in Kentucky. He was bred by R. C. Estill and trained in his yealing farm by W. W. Evans, who sent him a quarter in 0.331/2. He was purchased by Miss Wilkes for $6,000 late last chased by Miss Wilkes for $6,000 late last fall and taken to Canada by Stinson, where he wintered in good shape. He was brought back to Kentucky several weeks ago and received a special preparation for the race of yesterday. The colt is a half brother to the notel old campaigner, Country Jay, 2.10½, and Nella Jay, winner of the Kentucky futurity in 1902.

Three other races made up the card yesterday, the 2.06 trot developing into one of the best races of the meeting to date. Outcry Against Secret Practice by Harvard Eleven.

CAMBRIDGE, October 5.-The Harvard coaches again devoted most of their attention to the forward pass yesterday afternoon, laying special stress on it both in the preliminary work and in the scrimmage between the 'varsity and the second elevens. The second team used the onside kick most of the time to give the 'varsity drill in handling the treacherous play. The second also used a tandem formation, like the old Harvard tantem, except that it was made up of three backs instead of having a big, heavy lineman at the head of the battering ram. Inches and Pierce were added to the hospital list yesterday as the result of kicks in the leg received Wednes-

Four new men, came out yesterday, the two most promising being Sam Warren, who has been on the 'varsity crew squad for two years, and is a big man, and Russell, '08, who played on the line on the second team last fall. Both will be tried out at ond team last fall. Both will be tried out at guard. Mason, who has been second string to Apollonio at fullback so far, was moved over to halfback and played in Capt. Foster's place at left half the greater part of the afternoon. Broack, a big new men, was tried for ten minutes in Kersburg's place at light guard. Foster and Burn both did some right guard. Foster and Burr both did some beautiful punting. Burr sent a number of high spirals over sixty yards, while Foster's best ones were only five yards short of this. Later Burr kicked a number of goals from placement, while Foster sent some drop kicks over from the forty-yard line. In the scrimmage which lasted twenty-five minutes the 'varsity scored on the second just when time was called. The score was made from the thirty-eight-yard line on two successful passes, two long gains by Lockwood on end and tackle and a line play by Lockwood. This bit of foot ball was the best the 'varsity did during the afternoon. Half of eight forward passes were successful in the game, while each side worked the quarterback kick successfully twice.

ractice in foot ball in an editorial, saying:
"There has been a good deal of criticism, and just criticism, of the extent to which secret practice is being carried on by the candidates for the foot ball eleven. At the best the students who do not play foot ball get very little benefit from the game, and if they are to be deprived of the small satisfaction of seeing the daily practice it is not strange that they complain.

Mrs. C. Denve Mrs. C. De strange that they complain.
"It is urged that this policy is necessary if Harvard is to defeat Yale. No game has ever been won by a play which was tried in secret and hidden from the opposing team until the two elevens met on the field.

The inspiration of playing before a created.

The inspiration of playing before a crowd of genuinely enthusiastic undergraduates is worth more than all the secret practice that "Harvard took a prominent part in the efforts recently made to change the game for the better. Whether the alterations in the rules will amount to anything is yet to be proved, but Harvard had and still has be proved, but Harvard had and still has the opportunity to demonstrate that she has put away childish things in the conduct of her sports. Open the gates on soldiers and when Yale men want to see the practice let them go in. If the success of an eleven depends on secret practice foot ball needs another reformation."

Radical Changes at Penn.

PHILADELPHIA, October 5 .- After the disastrous Gettysburg game of Wednesday which brought out so many defects in the Pennsylvania foot ball team the coach made a radical change in the team yesterday afternoon in moving Hunter Scarlett from right end to quarterback in place of Wa ren Sheble, who was relegated to the side lines, and placing Takakie, the Japanese student, at right end in his place. Scarlett was a splendid end on last year's team and the move is made in a desperate hope that he may prove a better man for the place than Sheble, whose playing Wednesday was away below the standard necessary for a quarter this year. Scarlett had little chance to show his ability in the position. Longwell played half on kicks with him and took every punt that came back, fumbling most all of them, so that no line could be had on Scarlett's work. In running the team and aiding the runner he did very well, but his passing was very poor. Scarwell, but his passing was very poor. Scar-lett has a splendidly built form for a quarter and is speedy enough for the job. It re-mains to be seen if he can master the details of open play that are required of a

The practice was secret and it was almost 5:30 o'clock before the coaches put the men down to hard work. The early afternoon's work was devoted to a drill in new plays and signal work and in showing the men how Gettysburg put it all over them. That the condition of the team is alarming was shown by the return of Carl Williams to active coaching. Coach Vail of Gettysburg was on hand to watch the practice and give his ideas of some new plays.

Short Practice for Yale. NEW HAVEN, October 5 .- After the hard game against Wesleyan Wednesday the Yale squad was not in condition for a hard scrimmage yesterday and had only a ten-minute half of lineup. The practice consisted in the main of short kicking and drill of trick plays. Defensive work in stopping tricks was also in the drill. The squad seemed none the worse apparently for the game Wednesday, but the coaches seemed not to want to drive them, with the Syracuse contest on Saturday. Capt. Morse was in practice for the first time this week and said he had recovered from his slight indisposition. He will be in his place when the whistle blows. It was said here that the injury to Burch was not a broken shoulder, but a broken collar bone. It is said that he will be in the game again n a month.

Tigers Try Secret Work. PRINCETON, October 5.-All spectators were chased off the university field yesterday afternoon because the Tigers wanted to practice in secret. The gates were closed and the only information given out was that the 'varsity scored a touchdown. The scrimmage was long and hard. A number of new trick formations were practiced during the afternoon. Some of them may be sprung on Saturday when Princetor plays Washington and Jefferson, for the ricks are mainly constructed under the Waller, who played in the Yale game P. Waier, who played in the Tale game last fall, came out on the squad. Waller, is ineligible for the 'varsity this year, but his appearance on the scrub will help out a lot, for the scrub line is somewhat weak in comparison with its daily opponents. The practice today will probably be open.

WOMEN GOLFERS ENTER NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

NEW YORK, October 5.-Sixty-nine enries, the same number as last year, have een received for the women's national golf championship tournament to be held over the links of the Brae Burn Country Club next week. Miss Pauline Mackey of the Oakley Country Club, the title holder, is entered, but the name of Miss Georgianna Bishop of the Brooklawn Country Club is among the missing. The friends of the 1904 champion declare, however, that she sent in her name, so that it is quite likely her entry has gone astray.

Mrs. Charles T. Stout of the Richmond County Country Club, champion of the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association, has not entered. Other prominent absentees has not entered. Other prominent absences are Miss Margaret Curtis, runner-up to Miss Mackay last year, and Miss F. Louise Vanderhoef of the Ardsley Club. There are twelve entries from the west. The list

ANDERSON IS WINNER.

Proves to Be Most Popular of Base Ball Players.

The contest for the most popular base ball player on the Washington team, inaugurated by Mr. D. J. Kaufman, the wellknown clothier of 1005-1007 Pennsylvania avenue, has resulted in the selection of John Anderson, Washington's popular left fielder. The race has been close and the finish full of excitement. After a careful count the contest was awarded to Mr. Anderson, who received 3,585 votes. He will also receive a complete outfit of the best clothing in the "Man's Store," which means, Mr. Kaufman says, that he will be one of the best dressed men in Washington. Many other popular players were represented in the contest and polled heavy

REPORT WAS UNFOUNDED.

Rev. Dr. Nevin Was -Not Neglected During Illness in Mexico.

.The family of the late Rev. Robert J. Nevin, for many years rector of St. Paul's P. E. Church at Rome, Italy, who was buried at the Arlington cemetery Tuesday afternoon, were greatly distressed at the time of his death at the published reports from Mexico that the Rev. Dr. Nevin. who was in that country on a hunting expedition, had died neglected and uncared for. Word has just been received from Prof. Niven, who was with Dr. Nevin, saying that the distinguished clergyman had every care. In a letter to Dr. Nevin's sister Prof. Niven, in telling of the death, said:

"He occupied the first suite of rooms in the Hotel Iturbide, and I visited him every few hours and found him always cheerful and hopeful. He viewed the procession of troops on the 16th of September from his balcony. It was rather cool and I wore my overcoat, but he said he felt all right without his hat or overcoat. The parade lasted over two hours, which he enjoyed very much, frequently clapping his hands. The next night he had a chill, followed by a fever and the doctor said he had a slight at Fischer Found Guilty of Embezzling. Henry Fischer was found guilty of embezzling $71,000 of the money of the defunct Homestead Building Association at Fetersburg, Va., yesterday. He was accused of embezzlement jointly with Robert Alexander, who died four months ago.

Attorneys for the defendant asked for a new trial on the grounds that one of the jurors before whom the case had been tried was out of custody of the sheriff for some time one night. If a new trial is not granted, the case will be appealed to the supreme court.

EXPRESSMAN CONVICTED.

Fined $200 for Tampering With Package Placed in His Charge. A rival for Houdini was discovered in the Police Court yesterday in the person of George B. Lyle, a messenger for the Southern Express Company. Lyle was charged in court with the larceny of a package of tobacco tags that were being sent over the express company's lines to the tobacco plant at Winston-Salem for redemption, and the testimony showed that Lyle opened the box that had been carefully roped and sealed, removed part of the contents and substituted coal to make ver, and the doctor said he had a slight attack of grip, caused by the exposure on Sunday in his enfeebled condition and which resulted in his sad and sudden death."

the contents and substituted coar to have the contents and substituted co him behind the bars, and Judge Mullowny imposed a sentence of $200 fine or six months in jail. Detective Warren made the arrest. For some time past reports have been reelved by the express company that tags have been removed from boxes shipped from Atlanta to Winston-Salem, N. C., and an investigation of the matter by P. R. Burns, special agent of the company, indicated that the tags disappeared when Lyle was on the trip in charge of the car upon which the packages were sent. After this was learned, a decoy package was decided upon. A box two feet long and a foot square on the ends was filled with the tags and was Miss Mackay last year, and Miss F. Louise Vanderhoef of the Ardsley Club. There are twelve entries from the west. The list follows:

Allston Golf Club—Miss Mary J. Bleakie and Mrs. J. E. Mullen.

Baltusrol Golf Club—Mrs. F. M. Macon, jr., Mrs. Myra D. Paterson and Mrs. W. Fellowes Morgan.

just as it was at first; but inside it was found that one package of tags had been removed and coal substituted, as stated. Upon that coal, it is alleged, was found vermillon, thus identifying it, it is claimed, as the coal in Lyle's car.

When Lyle completed his run at Washington yesterday morning he was arrested, and when his valles was searched, it is stated, the missing package of tags with the writing on it, which identified it, and a claw hammer for opening boxes were found.

"How do you explain the package of tags, the claw hammer and the coal with vermilion on it?" asked Judge Mullowny.

Lyle said he bought the package of tags from a man named Smith along the line of the road, paying 50 cents for them, and expected to get 70 cents for them at Atlanta. As to the hammer, he said all messengers carried one to repair boxes that were broken en route. He denied that the coal found was different from any other.
